

The Three Kittens' Valentine

Three little kittens had already written
A card for Valentine's Day.
Their mother dear was full of cheer
To see that envelope!
But then inside, what an awful sight!
Oh, what those kittens wrote!
Mee-ow, mee-ow, mee-ow, mee-ow,
What did those kittens write?

Chloe wrote, "Mommy I want a pony!"
Pepper wrote, "I need to nap!"
Timnah wrote, "I'm sorry, mommy"
"My sisters are so naughty."
Their mother wise was full of spite
For all the bad things they wrote.
Mee-ow, mee-ow, mee-ow, mee-ow,
What awful things to write!

She sent them all away to learn
How to write a Valentine.
Chloe saw her mother cry,
And thought about her feelings.
Pepper read a manners book,
To write something appealing.
Mee-ow, mee-ow, mee-ow, mee-ow.
The sisters decided to try.

Timnah knew just what to do.
They all got together to write.
A poem so sweet, so good, so kind
To make their mother proud!
They gave their mother this special gift
From heart, and mind, and soul.
Mee-ow, mee-ow, mee-ow, mee-ow.
Now that was their mother's goal.

Now these little kittens are part of you.
Chloe is all about fun.
Pepper likes to follow rules.
Timnah wants to get along.
So when you write, take care
Care for someone, care about something.
That's what good writing's about.
Writing well starts with caring.
That's what good writing's about.
